Featured App: Account Vault

If you're like me, you enjoy taking advantage of the savings that companies offer when you join their loyalty programs. But, I've found that I've joined so many that my wallet can no longer hold all of the cards! This is compounded by the fact that I use some of these cards weekly, and others only once or twice a year, but I hate to remove them from my wallet, because of course, as soon as I do, I'm going to need it.

User Tips

Account Vault is designed to put all of your numbers - those you use daily and those you use annually - in a secure, convenient location where you can access them with a flick of your finger.

Forget to enter your frequent flier number when you place your reservation? Open Account Vault at the check in counter and the agent can read the numbers in large easy to read type. No more fumbling for cards or trying to get credit for purchases at a later date.

How Does It Work?

- When you first open Account Vault, you will be asked to create a password. (For additional security, use Apple's Passcode lock on your device).
- Click the + button on the upper right hand corner. A dial appears with a preselected set of possible accounts (bank, library, passport, etc.) Name your account and enter the account number. You can create options for almost anything - kids' bank accounts, social security numbers, the car rental place you used once in Florida 10 years ago. If you've got a number you might use one day, Account Vault can store it!

AccountVault

Security

- Information is encrypted so that only your password will reveal your information (in case your device is lost, someone cannot look at your information unless they had access to your email address).
- For the above reason, we recommend you do not use an email address connected to your iPhone
- If you need to change your password, your password reset email will be used only for password retrieval and no other purpose.

Daleks Becomes Chased

As we mentioned in the last newsletter, our Dr Who-themed app, Daleks, had come under fire by the BBC and we had received a Cease and Desist letter, forcing us to remove Daleks from the App Store.

We are excited to announce that Chased has been resurrected from the ashes of Daleks, with all of the fun moves and strategy you loved in the original game, plus some great new artwork! Chased is also NPC's first foray into iPad apps! We listened to user feedback and have changed the game balance and added a new type of enemy.

If you purchased the original Daleks please email Support@NPCUnlimited.com with a screen shot of your current version and we will send you an upgrade code. If you're new to the game, be sure to check out Chased Free on the App Store, and, as usual, keep those reviews and ratings coming!

Chased is available on the App Store for $1.99

Coming Soon: UnBloclt

UnBlockIt is an addictive reveal game great for all ages! Strategically click on the jeweled blocks to reveal the picture beneath - an ever changing stream of pictures thanks to the addition of a Flickr feed!

The first click of the blocks shows the points you will get for removing the set, and the second click actually removes them. Each player can decide which is the more important part of the game to them - getting to the picture beneath the blocks or attaining a high score - although revealing the picture in its entirety does guarantee a fairly high score!

Bouncy Ball Lite Rocks the World Cup!

NPC entered in a revenue sharing agreement with MagicSolver.com Ltd to promote Bouncy Ball Lite during the World Cup. And the fans went wild! More than 400,000 lite versions have been downloaded, and more than 10,000 full versions have sold. Many of these came from the UK and other soccer (football) -loving nations.

Have Faith

NPC Unlimited's continuing partnership with Flip Your Thinking has produced a new app, "Have Faith".

Like the other Flip Your Thinking apps, iProsper and Limitless, Have Faith allows users to spend a little time on themselves each time they open the app - in this case, thinking about the role of faith in everyday life.

And, FYI:

LadyAway now has a free version, and a version for iPad

Work is continuing on our Midwives website and we plan on making the first release soon.

We love questions, comments and suggestions! Send any and all to Support@NPCUnlimited.com
